PROFILE

I build account management functions that retain, expand and perform. At EVA, I created the CSM/AM department from scratch, designed the full operational architecture and drove +190% revenue growth in 2 years across 70+ accounts. Throughout my career, client and partner management has been the constant: from sponsors at Games Services, to brands and publishers at Webedia, to connecting professional players with top partners at Prodigy. I know how to build the team, the process and the culture that push NRR above target.
